Don't call it bench

Don't call it bench. It's the cutting edge project of Neri laboratories, focused on technology and design.

Born to furnish public spaces, shopping centers, airports, it's a revolutionary concept to bring social context back to the original purpose: make easier social interaction.

Adapting RGB LED technology to lighting environment; innovative Hi-Q system, with your music coming out from materials, not from audio source; Wi-Fi hot-spot to connect to Internet and interact with the social network platforms; Bluetooth connection to enhance notebook tablet and smartphone; smart touch screen TV; USB and HDMI cable connection.

Don't save your time. Enjoy it.
